General Price List

What Is A General Price List?

There are a number of laws and rules, which govern funeral directors and funeral establishments. We feel the most important of these require a funeral home to itemize all goods and services. This practice allows a family to pick and choose only those services they desire, while at the same time being able to compare prices from different funeral establishments.

Undoubtedly, you will have some questions, and our family and staff are always available to answer your concerns with no obligations.

For five generations, our family has strived for the excellence it has taken to earn the trust and loyalty of the families in Southeast Texas. We feel, through diligence and perseverance, we have made a difficult situation more comforting for thousands of families in the past. It is our hope and prayer with that continuing effort we may help many generations to come.

Broussard's Signature Services

The families we've served have often expressed several points of our service they have found to be the most meaningful. We have termed them our Signature Services. Please allow us to share a few of these with you.

- Life Celebrations – Our care and concern is our most recognized quality identified by families. We endeavor to uniquely celebrate a life lived, and include an entire family in the process. Ultimately what a family is left with at the conclusion of a service has nothing to do with caskets, vaults, burials or cremations. They have had a shared and meaningful experience. This experience will help them to a healthy transition from a life with someone, to a life without their physical presence in it.
- Keepsake Videos - As our culture's technology has continued to advance, the personal use of video to record and share life experiences has become commonplace. At Broussard's, families can share a life lived through photographs and music woven together in the form of real moving video. A life is celebrated from childhood to adulthood, from playtime to careers, from birthdays to Christmases. These can be shared at gatherings, visitations or funerals, and can be duplicated to share copies with family and friends. The first Keepsake Video is provided as part of our basic services at no extra charge.
- Printed Keepsakes – Every funeral most people have attended included some type of printed material. A folder or card resembling every other service folder with the exception of the person's name was on it. Our Printed Keepsakes are personal expressions of a person's life. They often include color photographs, letters, favorite quotes and scriptures, poems, recipes, orders of service, and family sentiments. As one family member stated... "you told the story of my Daddy's life without saying a word." These special keepsakes are for everyone in attendance of a funeral, and are created as part of our basic services at no extra charge.
- Website Posting – With local and regional newspapers charging for notices and obituaries, people can obtain service information, view photographs, printed keepsakes and videos, obtain maps to services, and can even send condolences to families through our website. Our address is www.broussards1889.com, and this user-friendly site is provided as a public courtesy at no extra charge.

Broussard's Crematorium

An Introduction

As society has become more comfortable with cremation being one of the choices families consider, it has become more apparent that the old methods of cremation are incomplete. Some of the questions families ask include: "Where and how do we conclude our services? Can we accompany our deceased friend or family member to the place of cremation? Is this process dignified? How can we participate?"

Our family is proud to introduce the answer to many of the questions surrounding cremation. Broussard's Crematorium is a state of the art facility designed with the needs of families in mind. Where a family and friends gather for a final committal service for the person they have loved in the same manner others would gather at a cemetery. Where they are greeted by properly attired professionals in a welcoming and appropriate atmosphere surrounded by floral tributes.

Broussard's Crematorium located at the corner of Stivers Drive and Hwy 124 in Beaumont

The final act of a funeral service is conducted at the place of final disposition with family and friends in full accord. Families even have the option of witnessing the beginning of cremation with the placement of the person's casket into the cremation chamber. This is accomplished in a completely dignified manner similarly to the way one would stay at a cemetery to witness a burial. No longer are the final steps of someone's cremation in Southeast Texas executed in a publicly inaccessible area. Everyone attending will know, just as it occurs in a graveside service, we have walked the final mile with that person to his or her place of committal.

It is our hope, as in all we do, this meaningful opportunity for families will assist them in coping in the transition of life with someone, to a life without their physical presence in it.

Service Options With Cremation

The cremation of someone represents a final disposition alternative to earth burial. The services listed below outline the general choices Southeast Texas families select when choosing cremation for a member of their family. Any of these selections can be, and should be personalized to meet the needs of those it will ultimately benefit, your family. Our family is available to assist you with any of your questions or concerns.

Traditional Life Celebration with Gathering and Committal

This type of service is very similar to the traditional services most cultures associate with earth burial. Family and friends gather the night prior to the person's funeral at the funeral home or church. They share stories, pictures, and memories with each other all in the presence of that person's physical body in their casket. The funeral typically follows on the next day at their church or in our chapel, and just as in generations past processing to the cemetery, this congregation processes to the Crematorium for a final committal service. This is a complete and healthy experience not only celebrating a life lived, but ensures the entire family shares in a meaningful event.

Public Gathering of Family and Friends with Committal Service

This service choice would begin with a gathering of family and friends the night prior to the committal service. This gathering would occur either at the funeral home or a church, with the person's physical body present in their casket. Those in attendance share stories, pictures and memories. The committal service would typically occur the following day at the Crematorium in a similar way others may attend a scheduled graveside service at a cemetery. This option is a meaningful and healthy opportunity for both family and friends.

Gathering with Memorial Service

This option for families is centered on the memorial service. This service could occur either in our chapel or your church, and the person's physical body would not be present. The gathering of family and friends would typically begin one to two hours prior to the time of the memorial service in the same location, or still may be scheduled for the evening prior to the memorial service. A private family committal or viewing at the Crematorium would occur at a different point in time of the gathering or memorial service.

Cremation Containers and Caskets

A complete list will be provided at the funeral home.
