What A Day That Will Be

There is coming a day,
When no heart aches shall come,
No more clouds in the sky,
No more tears to dim the eye,
All is peace forever more,
On that happy golden shore,
What a day, glorious day that will be.

There'll be no sorrow there,
No more burdens to bear,
No more sickness, no pain,
No more parting over there;
And forever I will be,
With the One who died for me,
What a day, glorious day that will be.

Chorus:

What a day that will be,
When my Jesus I shall see,
And I look upon His face,
The One who saved me by His grace;
When He takes me by the hand,
And leads me through the Promised Land,
What a day, glorious day that will be.

Roy Weldon Brown, 56, of Kountze, died, Thursday, January 17, 2019. He was born on November 21, 1962, in Kountze, to Edna Irene Honeycutt and Daniel Williford Brown, Sr.

Roy was a lifelong resident of Kountze, Texas and had acquired numerous friends over the years, with many who had become more like family.

If Roy was not at work, he was at the Clear Lake Hunting Club to which he had been a lifelong member of. He absolutely loved to fish, hunt, cook, and spend time with his friends and family.

Roy has often been referred to as a gentle giant. He was a quiet, soft spoken man of few words, unless you spoke negatively about his Dallas Cowboys... God, he loved them Cowboys!

Roy was a genuine, kind, compassionate, caring, loving man, who always wore a sweet, loving smile that warmed your soul.

The love he had for his friends, family, children, and grandchildren cannot be expressed by words.

Roy will forever have a special place in our hearts, and he will truly be missed and loved forever.

Survivors include his wife, Tessa Brown; mother, Irene Brown, of Kountze; children, Alex Brown of Vidor; and Ashley Paige and her husband, Steve, of Lumberton; grandchildren, Mckenzie Paige and Cannen Paige; stepchildren, Erica Singletary and her husband, Joe, of Silsbee; Anthony Cooper of Hornbeck, Louisiana; Aaron Cooper of Vidor; and Shane Miller, Jr. of Fred; step-grandchildren, Kenzie Cooper, Ariana Singletary, and Cooper Singletary; and siblings, Daniel Brown, Jr., and his wife, Diana; Otha "Brother" Brown and his wife, Becky, all of Kountze; and Laurette Primn and her husband, Richard, of Gun Barrell; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, and cousins. Roy is preceded in death by his father.

To my man
My Love my Precious
Husband

I never thought 8 yrs ago I could possibly love you more than I did then. But I can truly say I love you more and more every single day. I made a vow to love you through sickness + health and I meant every word.

You are my world and you never have doubt
I will be here for you
I would give anything to get + to spend ~~another~~ 50 more yrs with you
But we are old. lol :)
But I promise I will love and take care
of you until god
decides to take us home
yes we have had a few bumps in the road.

But I promise you I have never stopped loving you you truly have made my life amazing. You make me feel complete. I could not imagine my life without you. You are such a great man
I respect you and cherish our life together. When I think of my life
before I never thought I would find my soulmate my true love. But I did and that's you
my handsome precious
husband.

Thank you for letting me spend my life with you and making me
your wife.

I love you with all my heart + soul.

Your wife Tessa

DON'T CRY FOR ME

Don't cry for me. I will be okay.
Heaven is my home now, and this is where I'll stay.

Don't cry for me. I'm where I belong.
I want you to be happy and try to stay strong.

Don't cry for me. It was just my time,
but I will see you someday on the other side.

Don't cry for me. I am not alone.
The angels are with me to welcome me home.

Don't cry for me, for I have no fear.
All my pain is gone, and Jesus took my tears.

Don't cry for me. This is not the end.
I'll be waiting here for you when we meet again.
