Opening Prayer

Selections from Scripture

So with you: Now is your time of grief, but I will see you again and you will rejoice, and no one will take away your joy. John 16:22

Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted. Matthew 5:4

Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. John 14:27

I consider that our present sufferings are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed in us. Romans 8:18

Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid. So do not fear, for I am with you; do not be dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you; I will uphold you with my righteous right hand. Isaiah 41:10

Psalm 23 King James Version (entire congregation)

The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul;

he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his Name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the LORD forever.

Poem "Do Not Stand At My Grave and Weep" by Mary Elizabeth Frye Do not stand at my grave and weep I am not there. I do not sleep. I am a thousand winds that blow. I am the diamond glints on snow. I am the sunlight on ripened grain. I am the gentle autumn rain. When you awaken in the morning's hush I am the swift uplifting rush Of quiet birds in circled flight. I am the soft stars that shine at night. Do not stand at my grave and cry; I am not there. I did not die.

Choral Benediction You." John Rutter. "The Lord Bless You and Keep

Final Blessing

Charles Douglas "Buddy" Foxworth, 1933-2018. He was a most beloved husband, father, brother, son, grandfather and friend. He was born in Beaumont Texas on June 12, 1933 and was the middle child and only son of O.B and Katurah Foxworth. He attended Beaumont High School, graduating in 1950 at age 16 so he could work full time. He didn't plan on going to college until his grandfather gave him $100. With that $100 and money he saved working summers, he attended Texas Ā&M University. He was a member of the corps of cadets and the captain of the elite Ross Volunteers. He graduated in 1955 with a degree in Architectural engineering and Tau Beta Pi. Following graduation, he served as a first lieutenant in the United States Army, stationed in France. He was water supply commander for Europe. In 1957, he returned to Beaumont and served as a reserved commissioned officer until 1964.

In March of 1958, he married the former Martha Turner and they began a long and happy life together. They had 3 children, Susan, Julie and Charlie, and he worked feverishly to ensure that his family was secure, and his kids would be provided with a paid college education.

He has always been a builder. He started building homes in the 1950's with Galaxy Homes. In the 1960's he started Galaxy Building Corporation which was instrumental in bringing metal buildings to Southeast Texas. When the economy turned, he did too, and his focus became Foxworth Real Estate Company. He faithfully served Southeast Texas through the years in different capacities of economic development, chambers of commerce, and The Rotary Club.

He was a man of many talents. He spoke fluent French; he was a pilot; he sailed boats; he could repair, fix, install, rewire, or upgrade anything. He built 4 houses at the beach. He loved to fish.

He was an avid tennis player for years, enjoying a weekly men's game— Tuesday nights with Ivan Barry, Tommy LeBlanc and Robert Robertson. Later, he took up golf with Martha and they traveled the world playing some of the most prestigious courses in the world. One of his proudest moments was when he shot 76 in 2006 to win the "Chokers" golf tournament at the Beaumont Country Club.

He was so very kind and smart and funny.

He is survived by his wife, Martha; daughters, Susan Foxworth Hamilton and her husband, Monty Hamilton and Julie Foxworth; son, Charlie Foxworth and his wife, Blair Chambliss Foxworth; sisters, Jenilyn Simon and Doris Brumfield; grandchildren, Charlie, Sam and Ben Hamilton and Jay and Sarah Foxworth.
