Charlotte Ann Seaberg passed away Sunday, September 16, 2018. She was born on March 24, 1938 and raised in China, Texas.

Charlotte graduated from South Park High School in Beaumont, Texas, attended Southern Methodist University, graduated from Lamar University, and studied post-graduate at Louisiana State University, and St. Thomas University. Her professional career began as a teacher in the Head Start Program in Beaumont, and she moved on to teach in the Houston Independent School System and Brookshire Schools. She was an expert seamstress and enjoyed fashioning clothes for her mother and herself. She also enjoyed needlepoint, embroidery, and tatting.

She was a member of First United Methodist Church in China until 1956 then transferring to First United Methodist of Beaumont. On her move to Houston area, she transferred membership to the Memorial Drive United Methodist Church. She was an accomplished pianist and vocalist, serving the church choirs until her illness. Diagnosed with the degenerative brain disorder, Pick's Disease, she moved to Calder Woods Retirement Community in Beaumont in 2004 and resided there until her death.

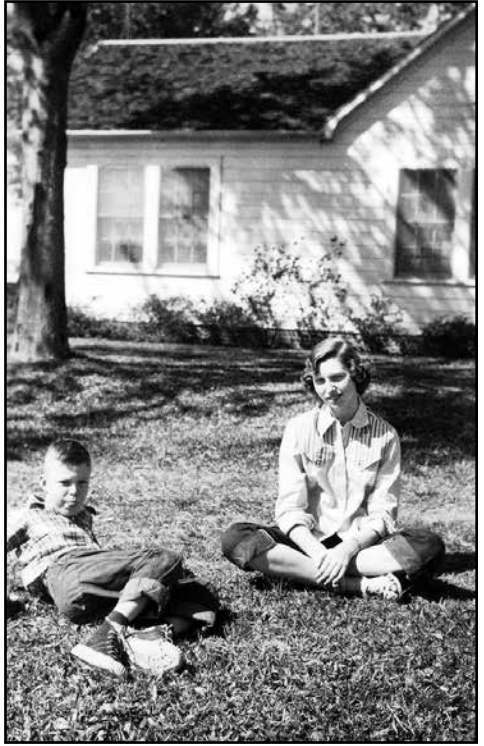

Survivors include her brother, John Seaberg and his wife, Faye; sister-in-law, Karen Seaberg; and nieces and nephews in Texas and Kansas.

She is preceded in death by her parents, Blanch Laidacker Seaberg and Ivan Seaberg; brothers, Charles E. Seaberg and Ladd M. Seaberg.
