Ronald Charles Walcutt, 53, of Richmond, died Friday, November 20, 2020. He was born on January 9, 1967, to Melvin and Linda Walcutt in Columbus, Ohio, and was a Staff Sergeant in the United States Air Force serving for 20 years.

After his service in the military, he worked for TransCore. Ronald enjoyed spending his time in the garden, tinkering with things in the garage, going on walks in the neighborhood, and spending time with his family any opportunity he had.

Survivors include his wife, Traci Walcutt; sons, Thomas Walcutt of Montgomery, Alabama; Jimmy Walcutt of Richmond; Colton Lowe and his fiancée, Tracie, of Lumberton; his daughters, Amber Dailey and her husband, Justin, of Lumberton; Jessica Anderson and her husband, Forrest, of Spurger; Alie Lowe of Lumberton; grandchildren, Kaydence Dailey, Madison Dailey, Kimber McCauley, Oaklyn Dailey, Peyton Lowe, Baleigh Anderson, Ellie Dailey, Tyleigh Taylor; his parents, Melvin and Linda Walcutt of Canal Winchester, Ohio; his sister, Melinda Place of Canal Winchester, Ohio; nephew, Joshua Gallup; and niece, Elizabeth Bowen.

He is preceded in death by his grandson, Merrick McCauley.

In our lifetimes, very rarely do we stumble upon people such as Ron. Over the years, I have stayed in awe by his ability to consistently be a light in any circumstance. In the beginning I cannot say that I was always so welcoming to the idea of a new stepdad as an adult, yet he continued to show enthusiasm towards having a relationship with me. But that's just the kind of person he was. I cannot imagine how difficult it must have been jumping into a marriage with someone who has 4 kids, all with vastly different personalities, different needs, and in different stages of life. His heart was filled with more kindness than anyone I've ever met. He welcomed all of us, including our significant others, our children, and our friends, with open arms. He has shown more grace and patience than deserved at times. He has been the calm in our storms. He has listened and given sound and unbiased advice despite how he might have felt or how outrageous the situation was. He has been supportive and uplifting. He has loved his family with his whole heart and never left any room for doubt. He's someone we should all strive to be more like. As I was writing this, a scripture came to me that I'd like to share. "My dear brothers and sisters, take note of this: Everyone should be quick to listen, slow to speak and slow to become angry, because human anger does not produce the righteousness that God desires." James 1:19-20 This is exactly how he woke up each day and lived his life. This is also why that although we are mourning the loss of a great man, a son, a husband, a father, and grandfather, I am also able to find peace because I know he is in Heaven and watching over all of us.
