Terry Steve Jacks, Jr., 58, of Beaumont, died Sunday, August 29, 2021, at Christus Southeast Texas- St. Elizabeth, Beaumont. He was born on November 10, 1962, to Pearl Harbor Denton Jacks and Terry Steve Jacks, Sr., in Beaumont.

Terry was a simple man with strong family values that he bestowed to his children. His passion and unwavering love for Jesus and family could move mountains, he was the calm of the sea and the wisdom of the ages. One would say his personality was one in a million. Melting hearts of strangers was a gift, his laugh was contagious, his love was eternal and his talks about Jesus will never be forgotten. He could carry the weight of the world without fault all while managing to solve all those problems. Terry's passion flourished in so many directions, becoming a realtor was one of his life changing accomplishments. This allowed him to travel and meet so many on a personal level and call them his new friends for life. His motto was to be fair, honest and to bring laughter to the world with his witty ways. Messing with his family would get you a one way ticket to one of his famous lines "I'ma knock you into next week"! He always knew what to say and how to say it. His children always relied on him for advice and options for any situation. His wife Renee and high school sweetheart over 42 years were inseparable with love that lasted a lifetime. Terry will leave an extraordinary and inspiring legacy behind.

Survivors include his wife, Renee Jacks; son, Brandon Jacks and wife, Jennifer; daughters, Stephanie Saculla and husband, Cody; Taylor Pace and husband, Seth; and Callie Irick and husband, Jordan; brothers, Rickey Jacks and Roy Jacks; sister, Kathrine Bukowski; uncle, Rickey Denton and wife, Tina; grandkids, Chase and Tessa Jacks, Zaili and Dally Rose Saculla, Ava Pace, and Jack Irick; nieces and nephews, Ashley, Amber, Allison and Emmerson Jacks, Chris Jacks, and Zach and Julia Bukowski.
