

Lynda Pittman Parmely
February 1, 1943 - September 14, 2022

Lynda Pittman Parmely, 79, of Beaumont, died Wednesday, September 14, 2022. She was born on February 1, 1943, in Beaumont, to Beulah Nelson and Thomas Pittman, Jr.

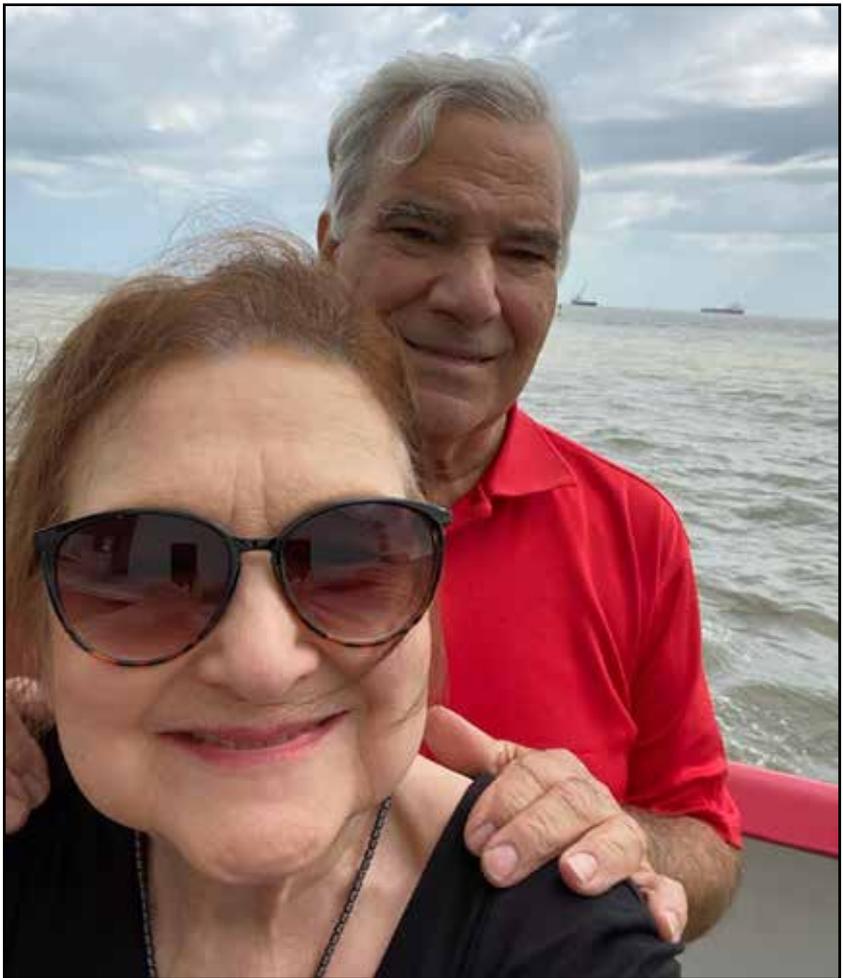

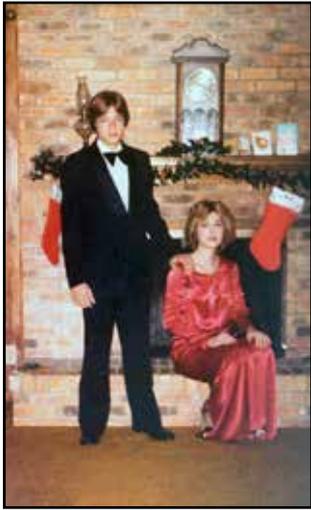

Lynda was a South Park Greenie, graduating in 1961. She had a Master's in Education with a specialty in reading. Lynda loved to sew, cook, and entertain, but teaching was her true passion.

Survivors include her significant other, Jeff Skyvara; daughter, Sandie Wilson and her husband, Jude; son, Paul Strait and his wife, Robin; grandchildren, Jared Strait; Lyndsey Strait; and Alexander Strait and his wife, Kaycie; and great-grandson, Maddox Strait.

She was preceded in death by her parents and late husband, Sam Parmely.

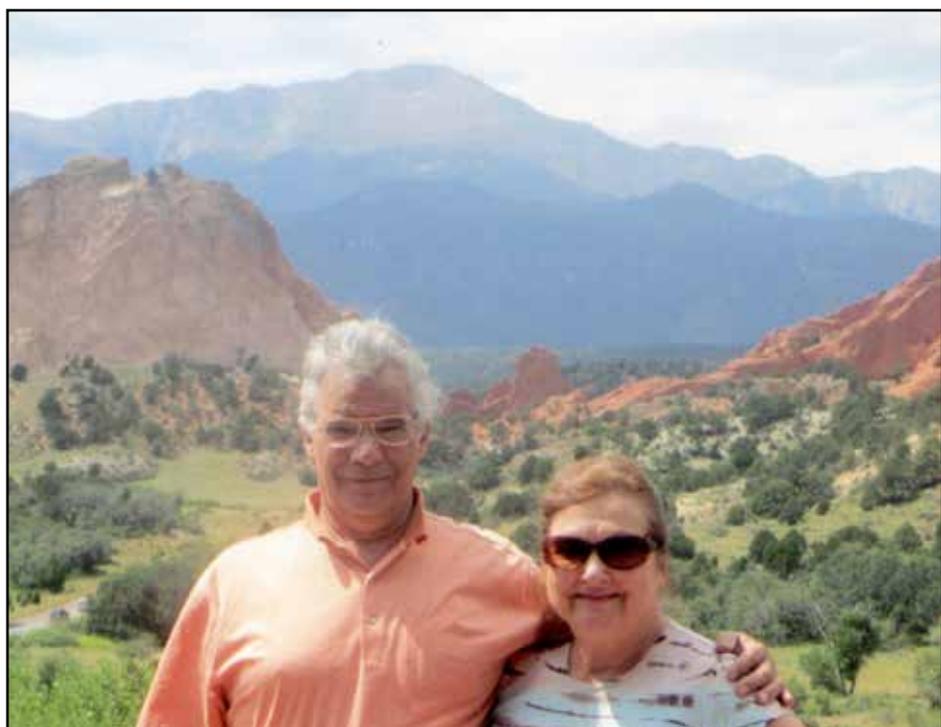

Awe

I saw you for the first time today as if a subtle layer between us simply vanished The perfection of your being held me spellbound for one moment - or was it an eternity In a world so filled with grief, disappointment and pain the stunning beauty of all creation was elegantly magnified in the stillness - the perfect silence the light of your soul shined brightly and gave me a glimpse of the divine spark within From one simple glance - what used to be a possible understanding became a remembrance of God's infinite love I am wondering now if heaven on earth really is just a shift in awareness as many sages have taught I share this with you hoping the priceless gift of renewal I was given warms your heart and rekindles all that is enchanting in your soul
