James "Jim" Joseph Busceme, Jr., 75 of Beaumont, died December 22, 2022. Jim was a third generation Sicilian-Texan, born on February 25, 1947, to James, Sr. and Rosalee Busceme in Beaumont, Texas. He was a devoted husband and loving dad.

Jim graduated from Lamar College in 1969 with a degree in Biology and continued his studies into the mid-70s toward a master's degree in Freshwater Studies. He was employed for many years as a laboratory technician at Baptist Hospital in Beaumont before working as a research associate in the Immunology Department of Helena Laboratories. At Helena, he was instrumental in developing the first commercially available assessment for hemoglobin A1C. Jim left Helena in 1981 to work as a chemist for Allied Chemical Company in Orange so that Lynette could stay home with children. In 1989, Jim became Laboratory Manager of the TCEQ State Water Lab in Houston. He successfully led the Lab in attaining NELAC Accreditation, a national environmental laboratory certification, for the first time.

After 20 years with TCEQ, Jim retired and later worked part-time at Peoples Hardware in Dayton. For over 15 years, he was a deacon over budget and finances for the Crosby Church of Christ. Jim was a faithful volunteer at His House in Searcy, Arkansas from 2012 to 2018. He was an avid pocketknife enthusiast with a collection of rare and interesting knives numbering in the hundreds.
