James “Bugger” Nett, age 90, died Thursday, July 13, 2023, at Oxford Grand Assisted Living and Memory Care, McKinney. He was born January 2, 1933, in Sour Lake, Texas, to late parents Lillie Dell Means Nett and George Washington Nett, of Sour Lake.

James was a family man. He adored his late wife, Shirley Jean, and took care of her until she passed two years ago. His granddaughter, Hailey (Nett) Bagwell and her husband, Trevor, cared for them both after they moved to Dallas in the Fall of 2020.

James was a man of God and was strongly rooted in his faith. He was a member of Our Lady of Victory Church in Sour Lake where he served on the Knights of Columbus and also greeted members with a warm smile on Sunday mornings.

When he was in high school at Sour Lake High, he met his wife, Shirley Jean Thibadeaux. They began dating at Lamar Tech. They were married June 26, 1955, at Our Lady of Victory Church. Together they built a beautiful life and became parents to Douglas A. Nett, their only child.

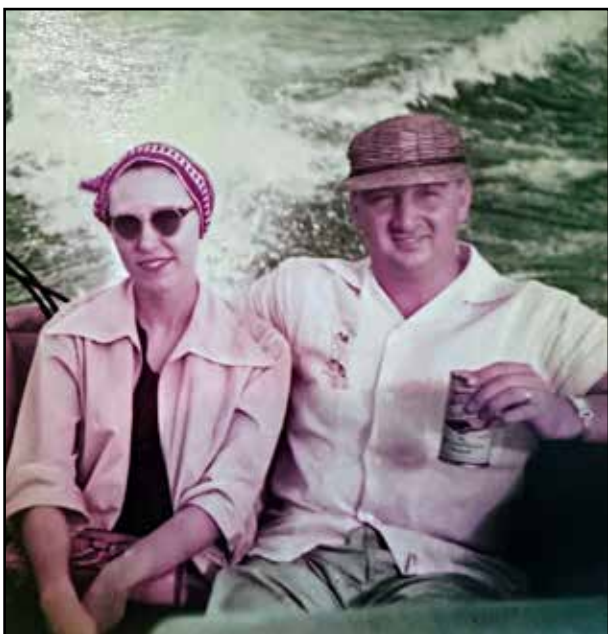

Through 67 years of marriage, they became a pillar of dedication for younger generations in the family and set the bar for what a devoted, Christlike marriage looks like.

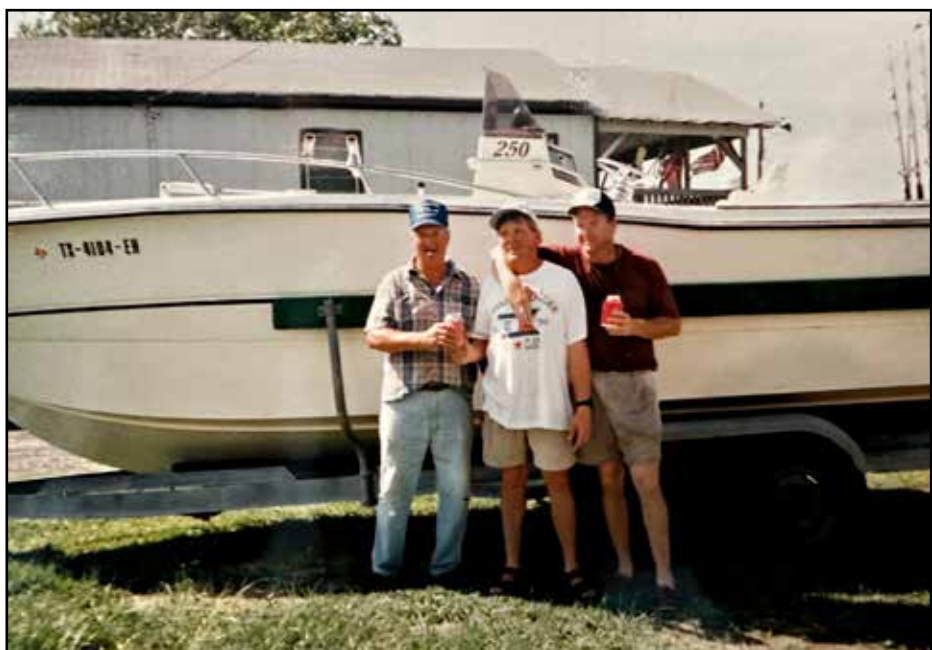

He is preceded in death by his parents, Lillie and George Nett; his brother, George Nett, Jr.; sisters, Livena Happy Watson, Vidamerle Fairchild, and Mary Pauline Abney; his wife, Shirley Jean Nett; son, Doug Nett; and daughter-in-law, Kathleen Nett.

He is survived in death by his granddaughter, Hailey (and family); his sister-in-law, Lula Bell White; along with several nieces and nephews.
