Chase Paul Lambert joined the Angels in Heaven on February 22, 2025, in Denison, Texas. He was born, in Amarillo, on February 8, 1987. Chase was the type of guy who could light up a room with his smile and make everyone feel like they were the most important person there.

Chase lived life on his own terms and was always on the move, seeking the next adventure. Whether it was spending time around a bonfire, going on a fishing trip, or playing a game of baseball or basketball, he was always up for something exciting. His adventurous spirit led him to skydiving and deep-sea diving, where he earned his certification as a safety diver, embodying his love for life's thrilling moments. A proud graduate of Warren High School, Chase furthered his education by earning an associate degree from UT Tyler. His commitment to personal growth and exploration shaped the way he lived his life.

Family was at the heart of everything Chase did. He was the beloved son of Shelly K. Chase and Guy W. Lambert Jr. and wife, Kristin Lambert. Chase shared an especially close bond with his late brother, Guy Matthew "Matt" Lambert, whose memory he carried with deep love and admiration. It's a comfort to know that Chase is now reunited with Matt. He is also survived by his brother, Ty Lambert. Chase had a special connection to his extended family. He cherished the memories of his grandparents, Guy Wayne Lambert and the late Harlene "Nana" Lambert, along with Buddy Burke and the late Janet “Gram” Burke. He had strong relationships with his uncles and aunts, Robert Chase; Heidi Taylor and her husband, Stuart Taylor; Ryan Ford; Heather Ford; Kirk Lambert and wife, Mellisa Lambert; and Dana Hoeffner and her husband, Doug Hoeffner. Always the protector, Chase loved his first cousins like siblings, LuRae Rowell, Brooke Meadows, Kelsie Chase, Chase Meadows, Hope Stokes, Neison Sutterfield, Cole Ford, Reese Ford, and Tyler Lambert.

Chase also held a very special place in his heart for his late friend, T.C. Forsyth, whom he loved as a brother. Their bond was a testament to the deep connections Chase formed throughout his life.

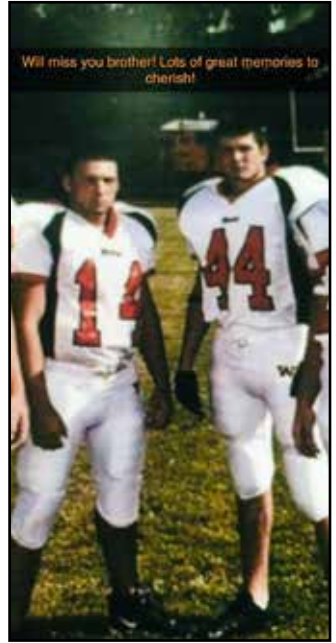

His beloved dog Bella was always by his side, a loyal companion through every adventure.

Chase’s larger-than-life personality, his love for adventure, and his deep love for family and friends will never be forgotten. His memory will continue to inspire everyone fortunate enough to have known him.
